Level of Performance	Ineffective	A majority of instructional time is lost due to <ul style="list-style-type: none"> inefficient classroom routines; inefficient procedures for transition; inefficient use of supplies and materials; and use of developmentally inappropriate procedures.
	Minimally Effective	Some instructional time is lost due to <ul style="list-style-type: none"> partially effective classroom routines and procedures that may or may not be developmentally appropriate; partially effective routines for transition; and partially effective use of supplies and materials.
	Effective	Little instructional time is lost because of <ul style="list-style-type: none"> established routines and procedures that are developmentally appropriate for all students and may include modifying speech and wait time to ensure understanding of the routines; routines and procedures that are designed to keep students’ interest, maximize learning, and assist in transitions; and implementation of a well-organized system for accessing materials, including supplies and manipulatives.
	Highly Effective	Almost no instructional time is lost because of <ul style="list-style-type: none"> students’ internalization of daily routines; students’ taking the initiative and contributing to the seamless operation of the classroom and classroom procedures, including those that pertain to developmentally appropriate cooperative learning activities; and implementation of a well-organized system of transitions in which students lead effective routines, including the distribution and collection of materials and manipulatives.
	Exemplary	In addition to the indicators for highly effective, the teacher leader <ul style="list-style-type: none"> contributes to a culture of student ownership of school-wide operations; models and assists colleagues and students in creating classroom procedures that are culturally and linguistically responsive and student centered; and engages in opportunities to support and mentor colleagues by sharing knowledge, information, and strategies for managing classroom procedures.
